

Who Are We Again?

A professional development program that brings teachers into the HEP research community.

A collaboration of centers at research groups nationwide & a national office—PIs, staff teachers, IT specialists, support staff & an independent evaluator.

Who Are We Again?

We immerse teachers in authentic physics research.

We engage them in the development of instructional strategies & best practice that facilitate the implementation of these principles in their classrooms.

We want their students to be able to explain how scientists develop knowledge.
